Foreword

We have attempted to portray pictorially, in the following pages, some of the highlights of our years at Case High School. Although graduation seems to be the completion of an era, actually it is the beginning. For some, it means becoming a part of the business world; for others, college is the ultimate goal. Whatever our purpose, we have begun to take our place in the adult world. We hope that this book will re-awaken dormant memories and provide a vivid reminder of high school years — one that will be remembered forever.

Dedication

We, the senior class of 1954, take great pride in dedicating "The Chief" to Miss Eleanor Emery. Through our years at Joseph Case High School, she has been very patient and understanding with all our problems. Along with her job as teacher, she is the school treasurer, and has given considerable attention to all class accounts. Miss Emery has started many students on successful business careers with her careful instruction in the various commercial subjects. As we leave our high school life behind, we wish to express our appreciation to you, Miss Emery, for the helpful start which you have given us.

JOSEPH CASE HIGH SCHOOL

The students of the Joseph Case High School will long remember Mrs. Elizabeth Richmond Stevens. It was Mrs. Stevens who made it possible for us to attend this school. She gave to the citizens of this town, the school building, equipment, and furnishings in memory of her father, Mr. Joseph Case. Her gift was unconditional with the exception that it be named Joseph Case High School. Work was started on the school in June 1926.

At the cornerstone ceremony on September 13, 1926, officials placed in the cornerstone a copper box containing papers and books relating to the building, town, and donor. The building was dedicated on September 1, 1927. In the fall of 1927, the school was ready for use. The first class graduated in 1930.

It was decided in 1951 to build a new junior high school which would be attached to the present senior high school. The school was finished and ready for use in the fall of 1952 by students of both the junior and senior high schools. We are thankful to both Mrs. Elizabeth Richmond Stevens and the citizens of this town for making these educational opportunities available to us.

TUNE—Cornell Alma Mater

Our strong bond can ne'er be broken
Formed in dear Case High
Far surpassing wealth unspoken
Sealed by friendship's tie.

Mem'ry's leaflets close shall twine
Around our hearts for aye,
And waft us back o'er life's broad track
To pleasures of past day.

WORDS—Class of 1947

High school life at best is passing.
Gliding swiftly by;
Then let us pledge in word and deed
Our love for dear Case High.

CHORUS

Alma Mater—Alma Mater,
Deep graven on each heart,
Ode victorious we go singing,
As from these halls we depart.

TOWN OF SWANSEA, MASSACHUSETTS
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

RICHARD B. GREENMAN, SUPERINTENDENT

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT
JOSEPH CASE HIGH SCHOOL
TEL. FALL RIVER 4-1122

June 11, 1954

To the Seniors:

Since 1950 you have seen Swansea grow in population so that a new public high school, gymnasium, and shop became necessary. You have seen the process of construction from the day when dirt on the lawn was first turned over by a power shovel in January, 1950, to the final installation of a public address system late in 1953. You have noticed the length of time given to the whole project and, in particular, the length of time given to laying the foundation. Many months passed while the land was graded, the wooden forms put in place, and the cement poured for the foundation. Would the building ever take shape? Finally, the addition was opened and you have enjoyed for two years the gymnasium, cafeteria, music, household arts, and shop facilities.

Your career, like the new buildings, needs a firm foundation. Whether you will become a housewife, mechanic, office worker, college student or salesman, the foundation you acquire in school determines your success. You learn the fundamentals of knowledge, health, character, and human relations for twelve full years.

Have you noticed how long it takes to build the foundation for a life? The growth is slow, but it is sure, and you can see the need for patience. I know you will have the success you deserve, and trust you may always be preparing for the opportunity you desire, so that when it comes you will be ready. How firm a foundation is one that rests upon a rock!

With sincere best wishes,

Richard B. Greenman

Principal's Message

June 17, 1954

Members of the Class of 1954:

In this, my final official message to you, boys and girls, I have set myself a task that I realize is not an easy one. I would arouse you to an awareness of your richest possession—your youth (and all it implies), and I would caution you to guard that youth with all your strength that you might never lose it.

Than youth there is no finer thing in all the world. It is human nature at its highest potentiality, untouched by the corroding influence of time. It is your young hearts that bring a new vision, a new strength, and a hope as yet undimmed unto the solution of humanity's problems.

It is the contemplation of youth that gives substance to all our dreams, and I am convinced that no labor can prove quite in vain, no sacrifice futile as long as there are young people. The truths that we who are older glimpse so darkly, your minds understand; where we falter, your hearts are bold; what we attempt so fumblingly, your hands are deft to accomplish. No man rejoices at finding his youth slipping away from him, and great deeds have not been accomplished save by those who have never lost its magic touch. The years that come when youth has passed are the years of affliction, of which the verdict must always be, "They please me not."

Your youth has many engaging qualities, but two there are that stand forth, and seem to be of its very definition. These are faith and courage. It is your way to believe, to trust, to have confidence. That things may not be what they seem does not enter into your calculations. To you life beckons, revealing the vision of her opulence.

Faith colors your relations with others. You do not put yourself on the defensive. You accept people on their face value. To you every human being is a potential friend. Being without guile yourselves, you do not look for it in others.

Most important of all, you believe in yourself. You feel equal to your dreams and are not deterred by any sense of personal limitation. Whatever may be demanded of you you feel sure that you can give. Wherever the enemy may lurk, you do not expect to find him in your own soul.

Of faith is born courage. There is a splendid daring about you in your youth that inspires you to cut straight through to the heart of any difficulty. If a thing ought to be done, it can be done, reads your philosophy.

Now this is the saddest thing about life, as the years go on you may lose both your faith and your courage, and losing these you lose your youth. It is not the piling up of years that makes people old; it is disillusionment, the experience of misplaced trust.

With faith goes courage. Facing the problems of existence, deplete of faith and courage, your hearts may quail within you and you begin to grow afraid in the way. Caution displaces daring, action yields to reaction, conquest to conservation. Then it is that "fear comes upon you," and you labor feverishly to dig yourselves, to surround yourselves with the trench of routine and your lives become standardized and what, after all, is standardization but the pitiful salvaging of the spoils of earlier victories, won ere faith and courage had departed.

You may now ask yourself, must things happen thus? Must faith bow to disillusion, and courage degenerate into cowardice? Is youth forever doomed to die? My answer to you is: Youth need never die if only you capture its spirit. The record of the deeds of the great ones of the human race demonstrate that it is possible to advance in age without growing old, without losing faith and courage. They made their dreams come true, because neither length, nor breadth, nor height, nor depth could separate them from their ideals nor weaken their high resolve. They never ceased being young nor did the years come to them of which they said, "They please me not."

These things you too may do if you will but hold fast to the virtues of youth, without succumbing to its vices. For like all fair things under the sun, youth has its blemishes. The besetting sin of youth is folly, the spawn of inexperience, which causes faith to degenerate into gullibility, and turns courage into bravado. Folly is impetuous, self-willed, intolerant of direction. It will lead you to squander your choicest gifts, and to put your faith in error and not in truth. The tangible and the material are the norms of the values of folly. Immediate results and the material rewards are its gods.

Now, boys and girls, through your education you are the heirs to the experience and the wisdom of the ages. You are not asked to begin at the beginning and to fight battles already won. Rather it is for you to set forth to further victories, and so my prayer for you at this time is that you may never know the time of affliction nor behold the years drawing near of which you shall say, "They please me not," that faith and courage may always be your portion and that your youth may never die.

Affectionately yours,

Class History

The class of '54 first entered Case High School as naive freshmen, much bewildered by the bustle of independent activity created by the upperclassmen. We marveled at their suaveness, but gradually, we found that we ourselves had acquired this same sophistication. Our class began to work together—sponsoring dances, joining clubs, and supporting school activities. More and more often, our names appeared on the honor roll, in music concerts, and athletic events.

During our four years at Case, we have grown both physically and mentally. Though our original number has dwindled, a bond of friendship has been formed which will never be ended.

When the members of the present senior class entered grade one and looked at all the work and assignments ahead, the task seemed insurmountable. A wall, twelve years high, confronted this stalwart little group of hopefuls, scattered in the first grades of a dozen different schools. How could any one of them scale those impossible heights?

The way opened for advancement and achievement as time passed. One day at a time, the years have gone by, and achievement has come in the same way. Not by spectacular leaps, but day-by-day lessons and learning have carried along the Class of 1954 until they stand at the top of that tall wall, facing another—advanced training or the indefinite demands of life. No person can take it all at one jump, but an hour at a time, a day at a time; and by the use we make of those hours and days, we prepare ourselves for the unknown eventualities ahead.

Congratulations to the Class of 1954 and, please be assured, that your life will do as well for you as you have done for it.

Each year the DAR award is presented to the outstanding girl in the senior class. This year Annie Thurston was chosen, jointly by the students and faculty, for her qualities of leadership, patriotism, and service.

Annie, an all-round student, active in many extra-curricular activities, has been a valuable asset to both the class of '54 and to Case High School.

The class wishes you much luck, success, and happiness, Annie, in everything that you may attempt.

Harvard Book

The Harvard Book, presented to a Junior boy, capable in leadership and displaying unusual character, has been an annual feature at Case High School. The book, awarded this year to Dana Plante, is offered by the Harvard Club of Fall River, and is presented at the graduation ceremonies in June.

Dana, an outstanding, intelligent, and all-around member of the Class of '55, must be considered a true leader and a patriotic citizen, worthy of this honor.

The entire school—both students and faculty—extend congratulations and best of everything to you, Dana!

Good Government Representative

Good Government Day is a state wide feature in which students from secondary schools throughout Massachusetts have an opportunity to operate the state government for one day.

This year, Mr. Madden's Problems of Democracy classes chose Kenneth Bangert to represent Swansea on March 12, 1954. Ken held the position of chairman of Industrial Accidents.

An all around student, Ken played both varsity football and baseball. He was also an active member of the boys' chorus. The class of '54 wishes Ken Bangert every success in the future.

Weissgerber

Dear Ursula,

It was certainly a great honor and privilege to spend our senior year with you. It is very difficult to adjust oneself to a new country, town, and school, but, with your striking personality and your willing attitude, you have succeeded with honor.

Your many new experiences, including classes, student council, driver training, and various other activities, illustrate a little of our American way of life.

We hope that when you return to your native country, Saarbrücken, Saarland, you will remember the many enjoyable days spent with us.

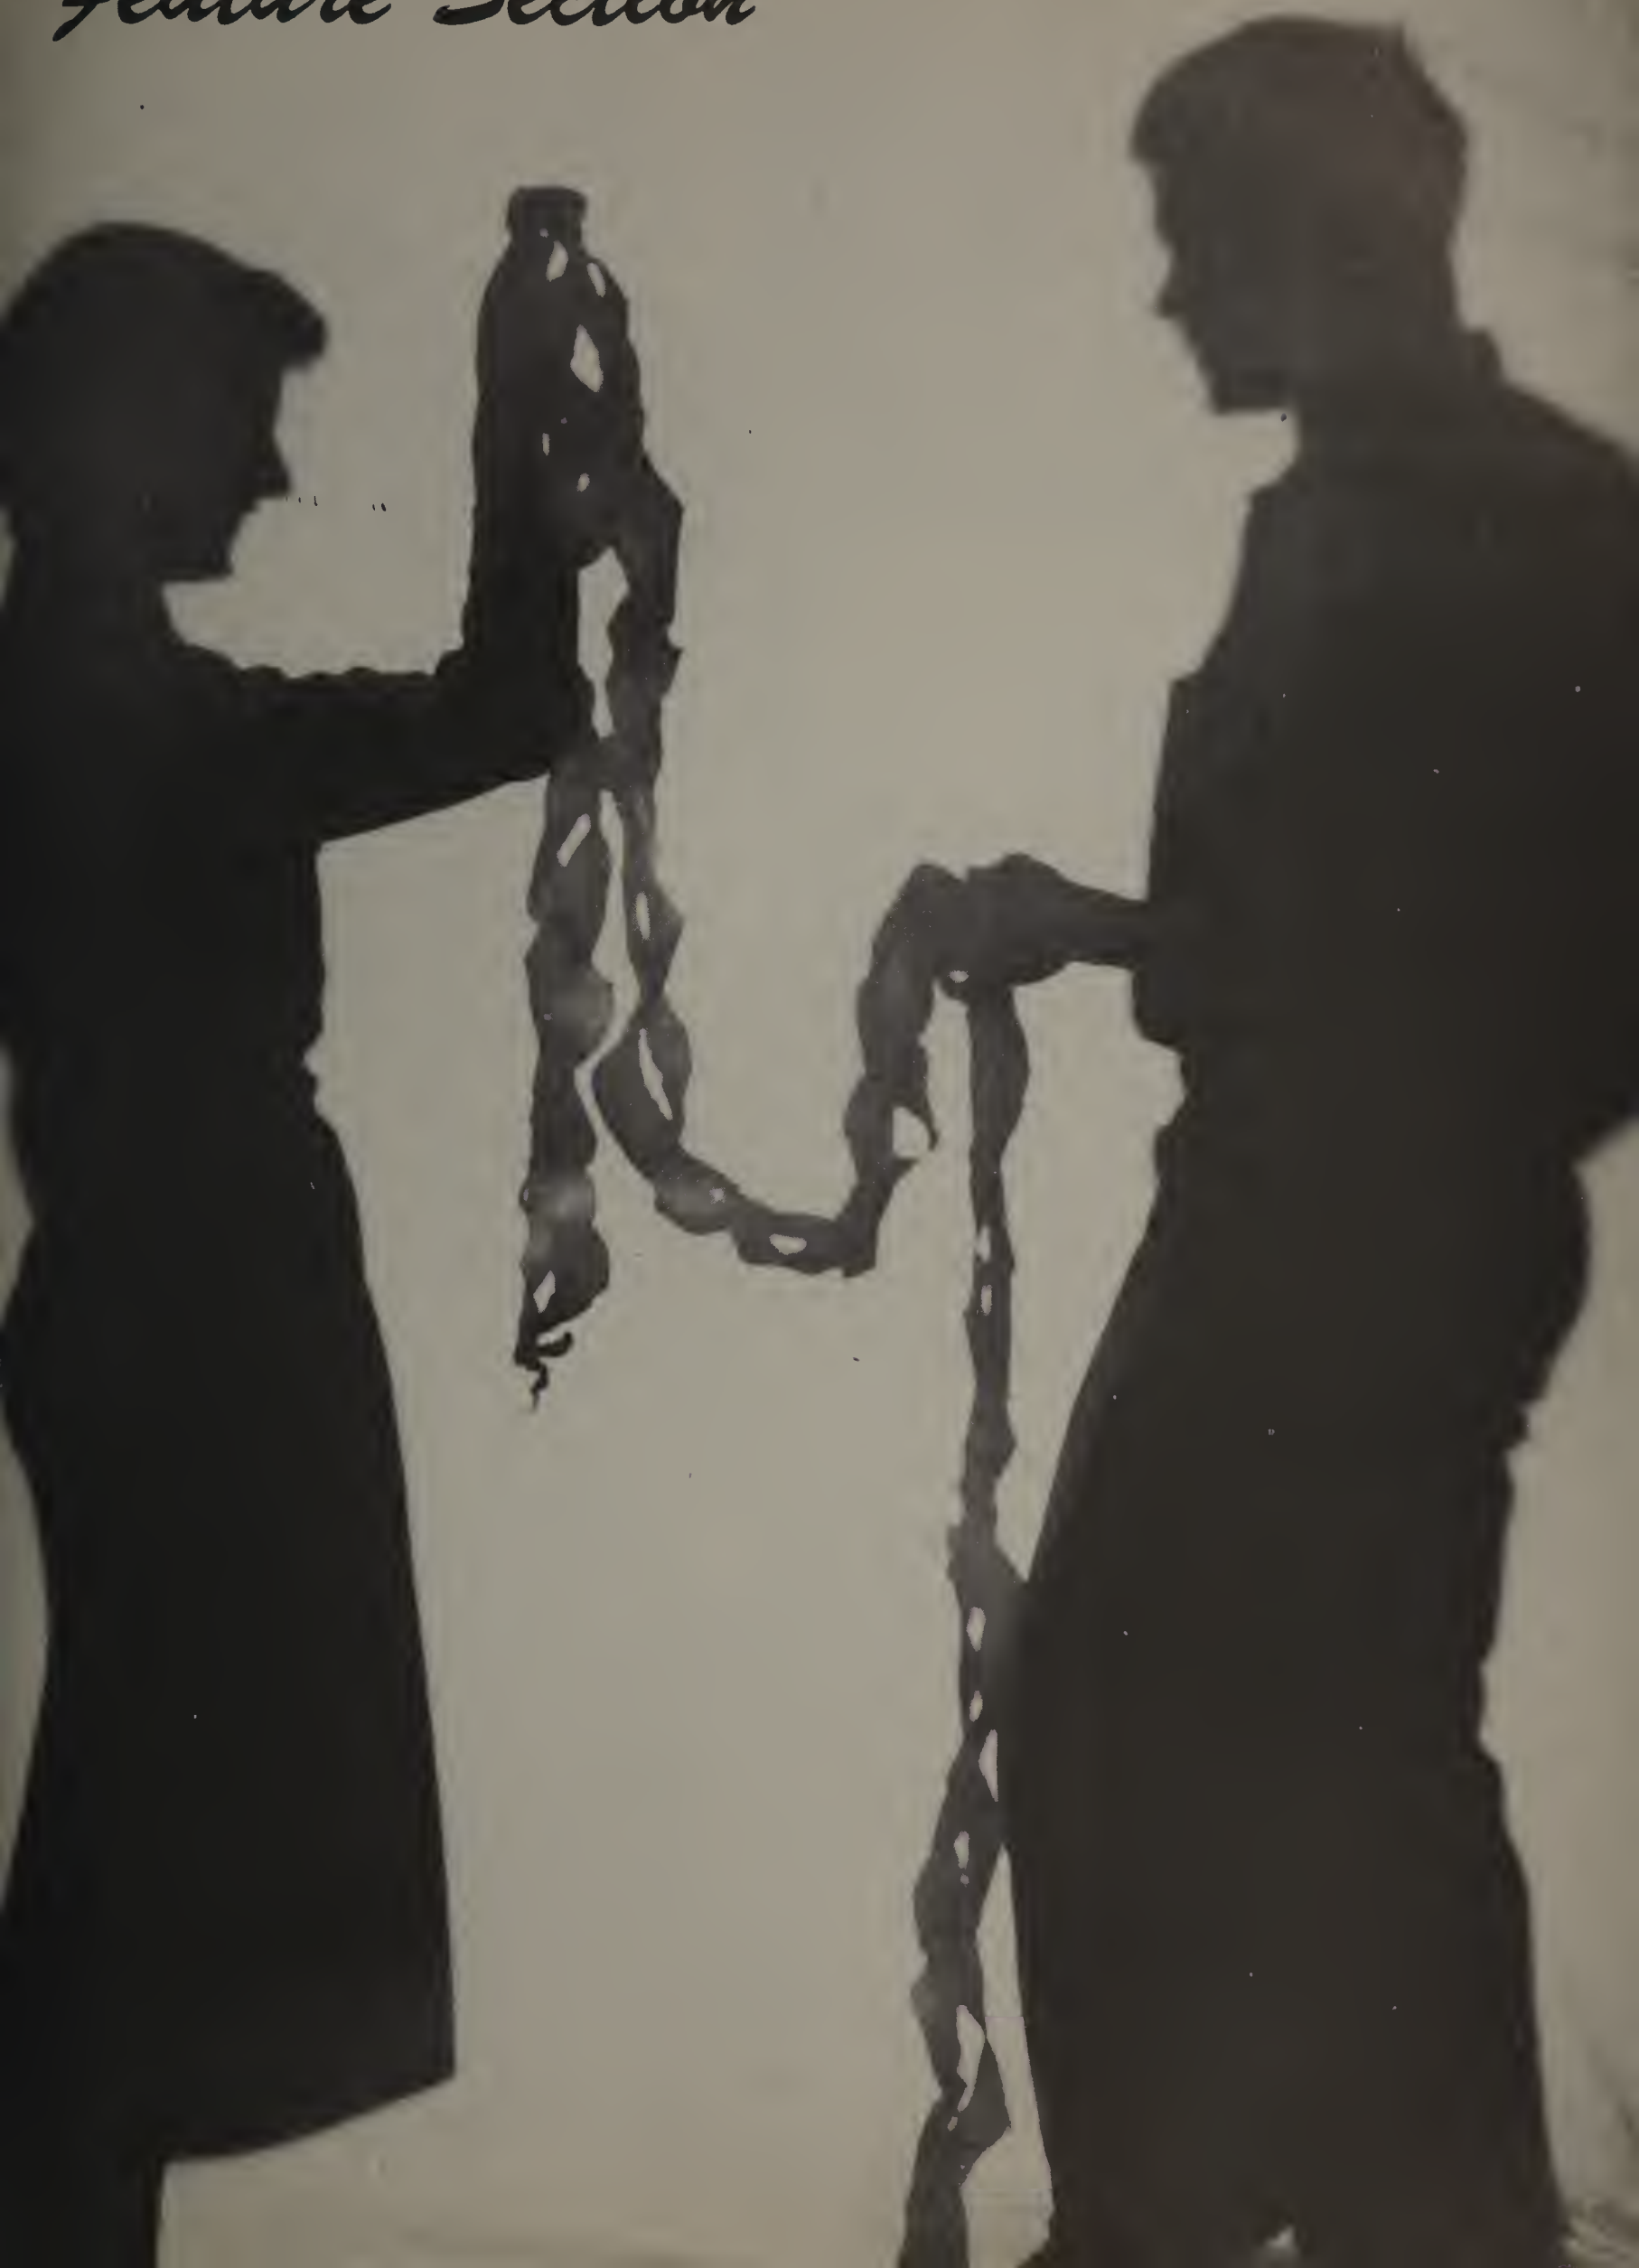

We wish you much luck and happiness, Ursula!

Football 1953

The 1953 football season was one of success for the Case Cardinals. Their 5-3 record was the best since 1948.

To recap the season, we will go back to their first outing which was against Oliver Ames. The Case gridgers started strong and their 20-13 victory showed us what was in store for the remainder of the season. At Dartmouth Memorial Stadium, Case went down before a powerful Dartmouth eleven. It was a hard-fought defensive battle that won't be forgotten by the many who witnessed it. The loss of Case's center because of illness may have decided the outcome which favored Dartmouth 6-0. The Cardinals' first home game of the season was against Franklin High, which had a squad big in both number and size. Case played good defensive ball holding Franklin to seven points while scoring twelve. Weakened by the loss of two outstanding players, the Cardinals managed to score on an intercepted pass, but missed the point which spelled their second defeat of the year. Yarmouth, 7; Case, 6. Cohasset was no match for the Cardinal ball club. Case ran up its highest score of the season, 45-6, with the second string in action most of the game. Traveling to Mansfield, the Case gridgers surprised everyone by upsetting the Hornets, 12-6. After a week's rest, Case played host to a high-spirited Dighton team. Case fans were happy to see Dighton trounced 34-0. The big game facing the Cardinals on Thanksgiving Day was the Somerset tilt. From the kick-off to the last seconds of play, the battle was hard fought, but Somerset proved to be the better team, dropping the Case eleven 27-7.

Two weeks after the close of the season, the All-Narry players were chosen. Eight players from Case were named. First string: Al Gadbois, halfback; Bob Silvestre, tackle; second string: John Pysz, center; Kenneth Gray, reserve backfield; Frank Kenworthy, end; Arthur Kenyon, reserve lineman. Honorable Mention: Ken Bangert and John Freitas. At a special assembly, Al Gadbois was awarded the American Legion Trophy for ability in athletics and scholarship.

With the extensive use of the new gymnasium, the basketball teams—both Varsity and J. V.—have shown a marked improvement. Under the careful and conscientious instruction of Coach Cassidy and Coach Madden, the boys have developed both individually and as a team.

The Case Cardinals have grown steadily and, in future years, will be known as a championship team.

All those who have contributed to the success of the '54 team—Coach Cassidy, Coach Madden, and the players—should be highly complimented.

HIGH AVERAGES FOR 1953

Arthur Kenyon—.431

Ronnie Correa—.400

The '53 record (5-9) was an improvement over the '52 season . . . lack of experience was the main reason for many defeats.

With most of the '53 squad back and with a new and enthusiastic leader, Coach William Madden, the record was strengthened.

CASE CARDINALS — 1954

COACH JAMES CASSIDY

Coach James Cassidy paved the way for future success with his sincere coaching efforts this year. He has already lifted the name of the Case Cardinals and Case High School to higher levels.

After a successful season as head-coach of football, he brought the Case basketball team their share of victories. The football and basketball teams have a fine coach and Case High has a strong leader.

Good luck to the future teams and to Coach Cassidy!

COACH WILLIAM MADDEN

As assistant coach in football this year, Coach William Madden contributed his part to the success of the team. Coach Madden was also the head coach of J. V. basketball for his first season. His basketball squad showed marked improvement with each game and we are sure with the careful coaching of Mr. Madden that his future teams will be successful. As head coach of baseball for the first time, Coach Madden was a fine leader and devoted all of his time to the success of the team.

Good luck to Coach William Madden and his future teams!

COACH NORMA RIZY

With the expert and conscientious coaching of Miss Norma Rzy, both the '53 basketball and track teams won the local championships. Her '53 basketball team won the Greater Fall River Championship and the girls were winners of the Annual Narry League Track Meet.

The Varsity team found itself in the winning column at the beginning of the '54 season. For this, the girls would like to extend many thanks to Miss Rzy, for her skillful coaching and, also, for the many hours she has forfeited in order to make it a victorious year.

Luck and success with all future teams goes to Miss Rzy, an outstanding leader and coach.

The Girls' Varsity and J. V. Basketball Teams for the '52-'53 season had an outstanding record in the Narry League as neither team lost a league game. This record was finally broken at the annual playday held at Somerset where New Bedford defeated Case, 32-31, in a colorful and high-spirited game giving New Bedford the championship for the Greater Fall River-New Bedford League.

This year's team has attempted to uphold previous records and following a very successful season, made an outstanding appearance at the Annual Playday.

The 1953 Girls' Track Team of Case proved, without a doubt, to be one of the greatest teams ever to enter the Narry Track Competition. Beside the fact that the girls took first place in every event, they broke four old records and tied the fifth.

The team was inspired by the great sportsmanship and ability shown by Dot Greenman who set the record in the fifty-yard dash and tied the high jump record. The future track teams will undoubtedly miss the outstanding ability of Paula Deubel who graduated in 1953. Paula broke the softball and broad jump records. Both Paula and Dot were also runners on our relay team.

The scoring was as follows:

| Event          | Name                          | Points |
|-----------------------|--------------------------------------|---------------|

| FIFTY-YARD DASH ..... | Hope Jacobson—3rd (tied) .....       | 1½            |

Here's hoping that the 1954 team will have as much fun and do as well as the team of 1953.

Annie Thurston

For the second consecutive year, the student body of Case High School elected a football queen on the basis of personality, enthusiasm in school activities, and leadership. The football queen chosen for the 1953-54 season was Annie Thurston.

The Gridiron Ball, held on October 24, 1953, was the setting for the coronation. Annie's crown consisted of maroon and gold chrysanthemums.

To you, Annie Thurston, the class of '54 extends congratulations, success, and happiness through the coming years.
